WHO WE ARE

The CalWORKs Resource Support Team is a combined effort between the Department of Social Services and the Department of Behavioral Wellness. The team will guide CalWORKs families through what may be a difficult time in their lives by helping to identify, understand and work through issues that create barriers to employment.

HOW WE CAN HELP

We value each person we serve.
Our goals are to:

- ◆ Create positive changes in your personal and family life by helping you overcome barriers and assist you in making choices about your goals and developing your ability to become self-sufficient.
- ◆ Work together with you, your family, provider agencies and professionals in a coordinated way to help you to achieve your goals.
- ◆ Services are available at no cost to all eligible families seeking guidance and support while dealing with difficult life situations. You can request these services yourself or ask for a referral.
- ◆ After receiving the referral, the Resource Support Team will meet with you to discuss issues you are facing and to connect you with services that can help. Home visits or private locations for assessment are available.

Client privacy is a program priority!

Some of the issues we can work with you on include:

Stress Anxiety Depression

Substance Abuse Parenting

Domestic Abuse Anger

Family Communication
