Mental Health Services Act Innovations Technology Suite Update: Behavioral Wellness has begun development of the Mental Health Services Act funded Innovations Technology Suite. Mental Health Services Act's Innovation component provides California the opportunity to develop and test new, unproven mental health models with the potential to become tomorrow's best practices.

The Innovation Technology Suite Project (INN Tech Suite Project) is being administered by CalMHSA on behalf of the participating member counties. Through the utilization of multiform-factor devices, such as smart phones, tablets and laptops, as a mode of connection and treatment to reach people who are likely to go either unserved or underserved by traditional mental health care, project services will focus on prevention, early intervention, family and social support to decrease the need for psychiatric hospital and emergency care service. This project is being led by peers throughout California. Digital Health literacy responds to the need to help stakeholders make decisions about technology and understand skills needed to engage with technology. Upcoming community sessions will take place in August in all regions of the county and will allow the Digital Health Literacy developers to understand Santa Barbara County specific needs from identified target populations. Behavioral Wellness is working with Harvard University to develop the organization of these community sessions. With input gained through community sessions, curriculum will be developed for presentation of the Technology Suite which will occur in the Fall and Winter of 2019.

Santa Barbara Target Populations

- Behavioral Wellness Adults Clients Residing in Geographically Isolated Areas
- Transition Age Youth (TAY) Enrolled in Colleges and Universities
- Individuals Discharged from Psychiatric Hospitals and/or Recipients of Crisis Services

For questions, to be added to the email distribution list or be involved in the community planning of the Technology Suite, please email Vanessa Ramos at vramos@sbcbswell.org with TECH SUITE in the subject line.

Behavioral Wellness Receives Funding to Prevent Prescription Drug Misuse and Underage

Marijuana Use: Behavioral Wellness was awarded funding from the California Department of Healthcare Services for the purpose of implementing local prevention initiatives intended to reduce prescription drug misuse and underage marijuana use. Behavioral Wellness will be awarding the received funding to several local community agencies including Future Leaders of America, Fighting Back Santa Maria Valley, and the Santa Ynez Valley Youth Coalition.

Funded agencies will use the funding to implement a media advocacy campaign which empowers community members to “Be a Part of the Solution” through the Safe Storage and Safe Disposal of prescription drugs. Campaign materials will provide simple storage solutions, encourage the monitoring of medications, and provide locations and additional information to safely dispose of unused or expired medications. Additionally, agencies will be partnering with the Department of Behavioral Wellness and the Department of Public Health to implement the Let’s Talk Cannabis campaign. Designed by the California Department of Public Health, the Let’s Talk Cannabis campaign is committed to providing individuals with the facts needed to make safe and informed decisions. By sharing science-based information, the emphasis is to increase awareness about cannabis and how it affects our bodies, minds and health while encouraging parents to have open communication with their children about cannabis.

Behavioral Wellness a Partner in County of Santa Barbara Award of $6 Million Prop 47 Grant to Prevent and Reduce Incarceration of Individuals with Mental Illness and Substance Use Disorders: The Bureau of State and Community Corrections awarded Santa Barbara County nearly $6 million over three years from Prop 47 grant funding to provide mental health services, substance-use disorder treatment, and/or diversion programs for people in the criminal justice system. The award recognizes a significant collaborative effort between county stakeholders committed to preventing and reducing the incarceration of individuals with mental illness and substance abuse disorders.

Led by the County’s Public Defender, Behavioral Wellness and the Sheriff’s Office, this funding will dedicate a full time co-response Crisis Intervention Team comprised of a Sheriff Deputy and a mental health provider for proactive and responsive community interventions, as well as develop Law Enforcement Assisted Diversion services to provide accessible mental health and substance abuse services for south county juvenile and adult residents with behavioral health needs.

The grant program also provides housing-related assistance and other community-based supportive services, including job skills training, case management and civil legal services. The County’s objective is to serve as many individuals as possible with the array of programs and services, and divert a minimum of 120 people out of the criminal justice system in Santa Barbara County. The District Attorney, County Executive Office, Good Samaritan Shelter, Family Service Agency and the city of Goleta round out the list of participants in this initiative that will support immediate access to a sobering center, crisis and psychiatric services in lieu of arrest by law enforcement.

The three-year grant will begin in August 2019 and include an evaluation component for an objective analysis of the impact of these services. Through mutual agreement, law enforcement officers involved in crisis intervention team work will be allowed to respond across county and city jurisdictions to provide seamless coverage for a minimum of 40 hours per week, Monday through Friday. In addition, Behavioral Wellness ADP staff will be working with Good Samaritan Services (GSS) to establish a sobering center as part of this award. The sobering center will provide safety and interventions for intoxicated clients who do not need to be arrested, and liberate local law enforcement staff to concentrate on serious crimes within our communities.

Behavioral Wellness Alcohol and Drug Program Passes State Review: The Behavioral Wellness Alcohol and Drug Programs passed a recent State DHCS on-site monitoring review with flying colors. A two and one half day scheduled review lasted less than half that time, as County Alcohol and Drug (ADP) and Quality Care Management (QCM) staff were so well prepared and the Substance Use Disorder (SUD) system of care was so impressive, the State had very little to find wrong. One of the State reviewers commented that in terms of compliance and organization, Santa Barbara was the best organized and most impressive county in the entire California state system.

Behavioral Wellness Awarded Funding for a Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) Access Points Program: Behavioral Wellness was awarded a Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) Access Points grant to provide substance use disorder intervention and treatment services within its South County Crisis Services Program. All individuals who enter our south county Crisis Stabilization Unit (CSU) will be screened, assessed and, where indicated, provided MAT. In combination with the MAT in Criminal Justice Settings grant, awarded earlier in the spring of this year, MAT is being expanded throughout our integrated systems of care.

New and Revised Policies Approved: Behavioral Wellness frequently updates policies to reflect enhancements and changes to programs and practices. The following policies were recently approved and are available on the Behavioral Wellness website at <http://countyofsb.org/behavioral-wellness/policies>. You can find policies approved within the last 6 months under the tab “View Only RECENT Policies”. You can also search alphabetically, by category, or by keyword.

1. Client-owned Medications (NEW) – This policy was created to provide standards and procedures to ensure safe inventory and management of client-owned medication stored in the Santa Barbara Crisis Stabilization (CSU) Unit. Additionally, to support continuity of care and ensure the client continues the medication regimen as prescribed by external physicians while they are in the CSU.
2. Medication Administration, Orders and Errors/Adverse Reactions (REVISED)-This policy was reviewed and revised to ensure standards and procedures are in compliance with state law and standards of professional practices for the safe administration of medications for clients served at the CSU. This policy addresses the role of the contracted pharmacy and pharmacist retained for the CSU in the event of a medication error potentially precipitated by the contracted pharmacy and all medication adverse reactions, and does not involve the Behavioral Wellness Pharmacist-in-Charge.
3. Medication Disposal (REVISED) - This policy was reviewed and revised to establish standards and procedures and ensure medication disposal procedures are in compliance with all mandated federal and state regulations, maintain medication safety, client safety, and quality care and minimize the risk of medication diversion and reducing or eliminating potential errors.
4. Hazardous Drug Handling – This policy establishes procedures for the handling of hazardous drugs at the Behavioral Wellness pharmacy, and promotes safe work practices for all staff who handle these drugs.

Each Mind Matters is making an Impact: Did you know that Behavioral Wellness provides support for California’s Each Mind Matters (EMM) campaign through the use of MHSA funds? Not only that, but a recent article has been published on the positive impact of Each Mind Matters! In the June 2019 American Journal of Public Health \(AJPH\), an article describes an evaluation funded by the National Institute of Health (NIH) and conducted by RAND. “The California campaign appears to have increased service use by leading more individuals to interpret symptoms of distress as indicating a need for treatment. Social marketing has potential for addressing underuse of mental health services and may benefit from an increased focus on perceived need.”

NATIONAL AND STATE NEWS

Statewide Poll Shows California's Primary Health Care Priority - Improving Health Care for People with Mental Health and Substance Abuse Needs: A recent California Health Care Foundation/Kaiser Family Foundations (CHCF/KFF) statewide poll showed that Californians' No. 1 health care priority was ensuring that people with mental health problems have access to treatment. This finding serves as a call to action to work together to improve care for people with mental health and substance use disorder needs.

People with behavioral health conditions often experience poor health overall. They are less likely to receive preventive care, have higher rates of many major chronic illnesses, and often experience a lower quality of care for their physical health needs. Those with a diagnosis of serious mental illness or substance use disorder die on average more than 20 years earlier than those without these conditions, often from preventable physical illnesses.

These issues are especially relevant for people who are insured through Medicaid, which is the largest payer for mental health services in the country. In California, Medi-Cal accounts for the majority of county behavioral health care spending.

Earlier this year, CHCF released Behavioral Health Integration in Medi-Cal: A Blueprint for California. It includes recommendations — developed by a workgroup of county leaders, consumer groups, health plans, and providers — for integrating physical and behavioral health care in Medi-Cal to improve patient experience and outcomes across the system. A companion At a Glance \(PDF\) document provides an overview of the vision, and a recent blog by CHCF partner, the Center for Health Care Strategies, describes the stakeholder process that led to the blueprint's recommendations.
