Santa Barbara County Fire Department is committed to protecting medical information about you. This Notice tells you about the ways in which the Santa Barbara County Fire Department (referred to as “we” or “SBCFD”) may use and disclose medical information about you.

WHO WILL FOLLOW THIS NOTICE

This notice describes the SBCFD’s practices and that of:

- Any health care professional authorized to enter information into your medical chart;
- Any member of a volunteer group we allow to help you while you are receiving SBCFD care;
- All employees, staff and other SBCFD personnel;

OUR PLEDGE REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION

We understand that medical information about you and your health is personal. We are committed to protecting medical information about you. We create a record of the care and services you receive from the SBCFD. We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements. This notice applies to all of the records of your care generated by SBCFD.

This notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose medical information about you. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of your medical information.
We are required by law to:

- Make sure that medical information that identifies you is kept confidential (with certain exceptions);
- Give you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to medical information about you; and
- Follow the terms of the notice that is currently in effect.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose medical information. For each category of uses or disclosures we will explain what we mean and try to give some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

DISCLOSURE AT YOUR REQUEST
We may disclose information when requested by you. This disclosure at your request may require a written authorization by you.

FOR TREATMENT
We may use medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, health care students, or other SBCFD personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know what medications, if any, were administered by SBCFD, to help guard against possible adverse drug interactions. In addition, SBCFD may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the different things you need, such as lab work and x-rays. We also may disclose medical information about you to people outside the SBCFD who may be involved in your medical treatment, such as skilled nursing facilities, home health agencies and physicians or other practitioners. For example, we may give your physician access to your health information to assist your physician in treating you.

FOR PAYMENT
We may use and disclose medical information about you so that the treatment and services you receive from SBCFD may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about the services you received from SBCFD so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the services. We may also provide basic information about you and your health plan, insurance company, or other source of payment to practitioners outside of the SBCFD who are involved in your care, to assist them in obtaining payment for services they provide to you.

FOR HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS
We may use and disclose medical information about you for health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to help run the SBCFD and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use medical information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine medical information about many SBCFD patients to decide what additional services the SBCFD should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, technicians, health care students, and other SBCFD personnel for review and learning purposes. We may also combine the medical information we have with medical information from other healthcare providers to compare how we are doing and see where we can make improvements in the care and services we offer. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are.

TREATMENT ALTERNATIVES
We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

HEALTH-RELATED PRODUCTS AND SERVICES
We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about our health-related products or services that may be of interest to you.

FUNDRAISING ACTIVITIES
We may use medical information about you, or disclose such information to a foundation related to the SBCFD, to contact you in an effort to raise money for the SBCFD and its operations. We will not release any information about your treatment but only would release contact information, such as your name, address and phone number, and the dates you received treatment or services at the SBCFD. You have the right to opt out of fundraising activities by telling us not to contact you.

TO INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED IN YOUR CARE OR PAYMENT FOR YOUR CARE
We may release medical information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care.

In addition, we may disclose medical information about you to an entity assisting in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status and location.

FOR RESEARCH
Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with patients’ need for privacy of their medical information. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process, but we may, however, disclose medical information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project, for example, to help them look for patients with specific medical needs, as long as the medical information they review does not leave the SBCFD.
AS REQUIRED BY LAW
We will disclose medical information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law.

TO AVERT A SERIOUS THREAT TO HEALTH OR SAFETY
We may use and disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety, or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure however would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.
