Homeless Pets Need Permanent Homes
Share the Love Adoption Event, February 13th and 14th 2010.

Valentine’s Day is a great time to add some love to your home by adopting one of the many homeless animals in our County. Santa Barbara County Animal Services, the Santa Barbara County Animal Care Foundation, Companion Animal Placement Assistance (C.A.P.A.), Animal Shelter Assistance Program (A.S.A.P.), K9 Placement Assistance League (K9 PALS), and Bunnies Urgently Needing Shelter (B.U.N.S.) are joining forces to find homes for the hundreds of homeless pets currently housed in the County’s three community shelters. The Share the Love Adoption Event will be held Saturday, February 13, 2010 and Sunday, February 14, 2010, from 10:00am to 4:00pm at all three Santa Barbara County Animal Shelters. The public is invited to help County Animal Services work toward the goal of becoming a No Kill County by providing a forever home to a homeless animal.

The Share the Love Adoption Event will include a $14.00 discount on all of the loveable animals searching for the perfect match. “Our staff and volunteers work very hard to find loving homes for our animals. We are asking the public to “Share the Love” with a shelter animal and hope that more people will consider opening their hearts to adopting a pet,” says Jan Glick, Director of Animal Services.

Bring the whole family out for a weekend filled with fun and unconditional love this Saturday, February 13, 2010 and Sunday, February 14, 2010, between 10am and 4pm. Stop by one of our three shelters; the Lompoc Shelter at 1501 W. Central, the Santa Barbara Shelter at 5473 Overpass Rd, or the Santa Maria Animal Center at 548 W. Foster Rd. Your true love is waiting.
